

T Level in Tree and Woodland Management (Arboriculture)

16-19

T Levels are advanced technical qualifications, equivalent to three A Levels, that combine classroom-based education with hands-on industry experience. They are designed to meet the highest standards and prepare you with the key skills needed to thrive in the workplace.

At Bicton College, you can pursue a T Level in Tree and Woodland Management (Arboriculture). This course provides an in-depth education in Arboriculture, integrating practical training, theoretical learning, and technical expertise. It's an excellent option for school leavers or those progressing from a Level 2 qualification.

With a strong legacy in land-based education, Bicton College offers top-tier facilities to support your studies. These include modern equipment and a state-of-the-art Arboriculture Centre, alongside an arboretum featuring a diverse collection of trees.
